Theme: Start With Nothing

Ideas:

- Top-down automatic looter shooter set in a futuristic yet post-apocalyptic world

World Lore:

You are a super soldier (codename: Eagle) sent back down to earth with the sole purpose of reclaiming our territories from an autonomous legion of robotic entities. As a super soldier, you are armed with a wide arsenal of weaponry and as your armour progresses through its various upgrades and power-ups, unlock its hidden potential.

Assets:

Rifles:

- M4A8

- FK47

Pistols:

- S&W Nebula X

- Aether Eagle AE-70

Special Weapons:

- Obsidian Wraith XR-7 ✓

- Quasar Cannon

Player Character:

Notes:

- Not intimidating enough.
- make bigger.

The main inspiration for our characters Armour was the idea of being an immovable fortress of a man whilst still having the mobility to move around, phase through enemies and be speedy while doing so.

As you can see, our character is fitted with a wide visor that covers majority of the helmet itself as this will provide him with a wide range of vision.

His armour is sleeveless and provides him with a great amount of mobility.

My first design was a bit too timid looking and did not necessarily represent an immovable object, so the design had to be changed.

Screens:

- Menu

- Pause

This will have a resume button and a back to menu button.

- Upgrade

- Final screen

This screen provides a character upgrade for you to choose from and also shows you the current level of your phase ability.

- Our map

These are not to scale in the slightest but the general idea of the map is that there are obstacles that will populate the map (buildings, rocks, trees) and the map itself is made up of three areas or zones per se, the ,idle grassy plains area, the top right and bottom left sandy plain areas.

Bottom Left Sandy Zone

Middle Grassy Plains

Top Right Sandy Zone
